THE
Manager's Message

“June is bustin’ out all over.” Rodgers and Hammerstein

In 1956, Richard Rodgers and Oscar Hammerstein captured the essence of June in six simple song lyrics made famous in the classic film production of the Broadway musical, Carousel. With the arrival of summer, we welcome beautiful weather and a calendar full of activities. June is definitely bustin’ out all over here at Halfmoon.

In honor of Father’s Day, we’ll host a special strawberry shortcake social for the gentlemen of our community. During June, we’ll also feature some fun for the fur babies with ice cream doggy treats. Mark your calendars and don’t miss Thursday Evening S’mores in the courtyard. It’ll be like summer camp lite no tents, no air mattresses, and no mosquitoes!

No event calendar would be complete without opportunities to enjoy live entertainment. We urge everyone to join us in welcoming some of the area’s many talented performers this month. With any luck at all, we might hear, “June Is Bustin’ Out All Over.” Enjoy!

All the Colors of the Dark by Chris Whitaker follows the lives of two children, Saint and Patch, whose lives are forever altered when Patch intervenes to save a young woman from violence. Set against the backdrop of the Missouri Ozarks, the novel explores themes of survival, loss,
and the relentless pursuit of truth as Patch navigates a turbulent life marked by tragedy and poverty. The story is a gripping blend of suspense and emotional depth, showcasing Whitaker's ability to create richly drawn characters and poignant storytelling.
